

Builder Story

Reiche & Silliman, Inc.

• Custom Builders of Luxury Homes •

Builders Reiche and Silliman have never tried to be all things to all people. Instead, they've defined their business and built their reputations as quality home builders with a singular focus on the design and construction of luxury residences.

The hands-on involvement of principals Rob Reiche and Bill Silliman during every stage of the process has been critical to their success. With more than 25 years of building experience in Central Florida, the firm's two partners set the tone for both employees and subcontractors. Close relationships with the clients, a strong work ethic, and insistence on quality in every stage of development results in homes that are built on time, on trust, and to customer specifications.

As a result, satisfied homeowners in premier neighborhoods like Kensington Park, Mirabella at Vizcaya, Cypress Landing, Vistamere, and Emerson Pointe are quick to build in new Reiche & Silliman communities and recommend them to family and friends.

Every Reiche & Silliman home is the result of a team of professionals working toward a single goal – the creation of a unique luxury residence. At the heart of the team are superintendents and subcontractors who have worked closely with partners for many, many years. An in-house designer assists with plans, designs, and modifications. An interior designer at the Reiche & Silliman Design Center simplifies the process of selecting colors and materials to further tailor the home to the client's lifestyle and tastes. Pool design and landscape professionals lend their special touch and expertise. An experienced administrative staff makes every stage of the transaction run smoothly for the purchaser.

Over the years, the Reiche & Silliman approach to custom building and the special homes resulting from their efforts have earned them the respect of peers and have won industry recognition with a host of Aurora and Parade of Homes awards.
